

FULLY RECYCLABLE PACKAGING

Eco-Herd Kit

The new Vet Way Eco Herd Kits have been professionally developed to provide a UN compliant, veterinary solution for transporting flock and herd blood samples, while being able to recycle the packaging after!

Eco Herd Kits have evolved from the renowned Vet Field Kits developed by Vet Way in the late 90's, the new kits are just as clever but kinder on the environment, using recyclable carton board instead of expanded polystyrene.

It's protected design is robust enough to withstand the challenges of on farm blood sampling and has been rigorously tested as part of ADR transport regulations for Category B shipments.

Each kit comes with 50 sequentially, dual bar-coded blood tubes for full sample traceability. Each kit contains 95 KPA tested tubes, bags and absorbent material to make up a fully compliant UN Cat B system.
