

TST Strips

How do you know that your autoclave is sterilising your instruments and devices effectively?

A non-functioning steriliser can have serious implications on patient and staff safety. TST test strips offer a cost effective and easy way of confirming that your autoclave has reached the sterilisation parameters. We supply UK manufactured Albert Browne TST test strips which are frequently used within the healthcare industry. Emulating indicator verifies exposure to conditions essential to confirming that sterilisation has occurred.

“85% of practices in our survey rely solely on TST strips to validate the effectiveness of their steam steriliser”

NOTE: Please ensure you select the correct indicator for your steam sterilisation cycle.